

A/V NEEDS

I'm very excited to come and speak to your group! I'll try to keep this simple.

Here's what my typical A/V needs are:

- LCD projector and screen/monitor
- Sound hookup for my laptop
- Headset (countryman) mic (preferred), handheld (still fine) or lav mic (I never seem to wear the right outfit for these, but we can make it work!)
- Internet connection for my laptop (I can easily do without, but if it's possible, this brings in some fun interaction that audiences love!)

Other Miscellaneous Needs:

- Your cell phone so I can shoot you a quick text to let you know I made it to town, giving you one less thing to worry about right before the event. (or let you know if there's a problem, giving you one more thing to worry about. But hopefully the former!)
- Information on your group, who they are, their challenges, some of the inside jokes, current events, and how you want them to feel when they leave my talk. (if we haven't talked about this already)
